

Substances

---

Matter can be classified as substances, also known as pure substances or chemicals. Substances can be further subdivided into elements and compounds.

- Define element and give an example of an element.
- Define compound and give an example of a compound.

Create a chart like the one below and list the similarities and differences between elements and compounds.

Similarities	Differences